

Extended effort

• Wamboldt-Waterfield/Daryl Clarke

The collaboration of artist Allan Harding MacKay, right, and anthropologist Charlotte Townsend-Gault, background, resulted in a lengthy 545-foot effort. The work, done in chalk, pastel and oil on wrapping paper and titled Some Critical Countenances: An Extended Drawing, represents a selection of members of the Canadian art community. It will go on exhibit at the Art Gallery of Nova Scotia Thursday.